

PROPHET VERSUS PSYCHIC: KNOW THE DIFFERENCE

Here is a general principle to help you understand the two placements from Yahweh's perspective.

—YAHWEH'S OFFICE PROPHET—

Yahweh's prophet is a man or woman gifted through His Kingdom order, given prophet traits, and enabled to receive spiritual upgrades to carry the weight of work duties that shift certain realms and regions. A male or female can use the title of prophet, since the office gauges the spirit realm, not the gender or household details. Humans cannot initiate a prophet into service. Yahweh calls the prophet into the office work and directly imparts power into that servant's mantle to carry the weight of the office.

Yahweh gives the person called to service a direct impartation to perform work duties relating to their sphere of influence. Each sphere will yield battle warfare against various levels of demons. Yahweh must enable His prophets to carry the weight of the given duties to stand as a "watchman," enabled to bear the weight of direct engagement with the spirits that lead within or invade the delegated work sphere. Every prophet needs to prepare for warfare with real tastes of spiritual engagement at the leading of the Great Holy Spirit.

Within the calling given to the servant, Yahweh builds up spiritual upgrades, tester training, battle practices, and forms of rejection so that a well-rounded servant is ready for the level of work their official duties will entail. Building and shaping the prophet's mantle (Yahweh's enablement to fulfil the work duties) through trials, tribulations, spiritual tests, and training in delivering messages lays the groundwork for novice preparation for actual work. Yahweh gives provision, protection, and power to the active, released prophet to maintain Yahweh's work in the delegated sphere.

When the prophet is released to work in active office dealings at the end of novice training, Yahweh will begin the presentation process and reveal the servant to other Kingdom servants and the spirit realm, meaning that Satan's servants will also become aware of a new office servant.

Yahweh gives a covenant vow to begin work with a prophet. If a servant turns away from Yahweh and yields to lowercase gods, within a certain time of unrepentance of their rebellious nature, Yahweh removes that prophet from office work. With removal, the prophet will not hear the Word of the Lord as a deep, unfiltered engagement. The removed prophet would fumble around trying to hear Yahweh. The removed servant would resort to demons or hearsay to make people think they still hear Yahweh.

—SATAN'S PSYCHIC—

In a secular context, a psychic gives predictions about the future or reveals personal details about a place, person, or circumstance. The naïve person would see this demon-filled person and Yahweh's prophet as the same stream of spiritual drinking, an outlet of telling the future or proclaiming what's already there. It's a dangerous perception to view both groups (the psychic and Yahweh's prophet) in the same plan since the psychic reports to Satan.

With a psychic, their main gathering of information stems from spirit beings known as demons. These demons were once God's angels who turned against Yahweh and rebelled. With these other ways of spiritual seeing, the gathered details stem from wisdom heard in Yahweh's private sessions with His prophets, messages released into the spirit realm, and the demons that follow the person to observe their private living.

No psychic is a real Christian. At the same time, no true prophet can live entirely without sin due to being in this fallen world, yet Yahweh gives a certain way in preparation and spiritual stripping to stabilize His servant and keep him or her firm in the faith when working His work details.

Yahweh removes a prophet from duty when they continually disobey Him. When there is no open channel of the wisdom and will from Yahweh's plan, a real servant will have to resort to using demons if they want to give a fake presentation of hearing from Yahweh. A psychic will always resort to their demon outlets, and they also let a demon enter their flesh for a "power" way to appear higher in occult actions.

Never go to a séance, tarot card viewing, or palm reading. Never entertain horoscopes or play Ouija board games. Stay holy unto Yahweh. Read His Word and pray to Him for wisdom and reliable counsel. Yahweh has real servants on Earth, bringing a shifting plan in the realms and regions based on the Word Yahweh gives.
