

CUTTER

August 22, 2021

8:40 p.m.

SEERSGATE GIVES A SHARING:

I know of a person who dealt with heavy pain. Her biological dad lived in one nation while she and her siblings lived in another. Growing up was hard. What happened to her to cause her to hurt herself? Her real pain of how things were going was seemingly too much to bear, and within this wounded soul, there was a craving for some way to show others the pain level she was dealing with.

What did this young person deal with? Abandonment, painful sexual invasion, the trauma of verbal and emotional abuse, and strong handling of adults who left bruises on her fleshly way.

What child would endure this painful plan and still hope that a real God is up there? Would there be a God who would look at her and care about what she dealt with? Did King Jesus show up on a white horse, telling the hurting one that He will make it all better and slay those who hurt her? No. The opposite happened. He trained me to have a deep craving for His Spirit to fill the painful way of treatment. Growing up in a Christian home will not guarantee a loving environment. My mom struggled, but she was not a single mother.

I did not know love until a day at the altar that I will never forget if I had a choice. I stood there over two decades ago, praying and hoping that My God would care about me because of how others treated me. I was so immersed in self-pity that even if King Jesus stood before me, I would not think He cared. And that would explain why most of the time, He did not answer my requests for Him to come and materialize.

Where was faith in my life? My doubt ruled over me based on being continually let down and dealing with my hopeless feelings.

What happened at the altar? A married couple came to me and started ministering. They fought against the emotional wall I had built, and they wondered why I would not embrace what they said about God. Yahweh was real to the people in Scripture or to the one who gave sermons, but would He even care about my current situation when it seemed He didn't care when I gave new scars to this temple of His? The couple worked on me and tried to get me to heal. But it wasn't until they said some words to me that a change came within.

They said, "Just receive His love."

I did not think it would be so easy yet hard due to my emotional wall, keeping others from getting close to me.

Could Yahweh's love be there with you, and all that needs to be done is that you receive Him? I kept a distance from King Jesus because I thought He would judge me just as others in my previous ways. But all can come to Him, asking for a new plan to live.

(5) For Moses writes of the righteousness that is based on the Law, that the person who performs them will live by them. (6) But the righteousness based on faith speaks as follows: "Do not say in your heart, 'Who will go up into heaven?' (that is, to bring Christ down), (7) or 'Who will descend into the abyss?' (that is, to bring Christ up from the dead)." (8) But what does it say? "The word is near you, in your mouth and in your heart"—that is, the word of faith which we are preaching, (9) that if you confess with your mouth Jesus as Lord, and believe in your heart that God raised Him from the dead, you will be saved; (10) for with the heart a person believes, resulting in righteousness, and with the mouth he confesses, resulting in salvation. (11) For the Scripture says, "Whoever believes in Him will not be put to shame." (12) For there is no distinction between Jew and Greek; for the same Lord is Lord of all, abounding in riches for all who call on Him; (13) for "Everyone who calls on the name of the Lord will be saved."

—Romans 10:5-13 NASB

SEERSGATE CONTINUES:

When I stood at the altar, I realized I could choose King Jesus. There was this fear of rejection that even God would not want me, but then I knew Yahweh's love does not bend and take on ill actions if wrong is done to Him. His love is constant. King Jesus was there to love me, and when that understanding was real in my heart, there was a release within to let go of the hatred toward those who caused me pain and to embrace forgiveness and love in King Jesus. I gave King Jesus a chance.

You are loved.

"For God so loved the world, that He gave His only Son, so that everyone who believes in Him will not perish, but have eternal life."

—John 3:16 NASB

SEERSGATE CONTINUES:

Just take a moment to trust King Jesus and believe, and you may still feel just as you are, but there is no longer any need to feel the hopelessness of enduring this earthly journey alone. King Jesus will be with you in the good times and the painful experiences. And because the nature of evil is in the world, it does not mean we have no hope in eternity. I thank Yahweh for His love. For those who want hope, love, and a fresh start, please pray this prayer of salvation (Kingdom covenant prayer) as an entryway, letting Yahweh know you are longing to meet with Him.

Dear Jesus, I ask You to forgive me of all of my sins. I ask You to save me. I have turned my back on You, but now I come to You. Please cleanse me from all unrighteousness. Please heal me. Please heal me in every area of my life. Most importantly, please come to live within me. I want to know You. I want to have a relationship with You. I am Yours. I am Yours forever, my God, my King, and I choose to serve You for the rest of my days. Thank You, Lord, for dying for me and for saving me. I receive all that You have for me. I look forward to being with You forever. Amen.